MT. ROSE POTATOES

We are pleased to offer the following varieties of local and organic fresh dug potatoes:

- Mt. Rose (Riverdog Farm)- heirloom potato with red skin and flesh; retains color when cooked. It has a sweet flavor and is deliciously moist and creamy. They are not waxy which makes them great for most uses- baked, mashed, steamed, scalloped, and uniquely colored fries and chips. Available in a 10# case.
- Butterball (Full Belly Farm)- a Russet-type potato loved for its rich, golden flesh, buttery flavor, versatility, and long-term storability. 10# case.
- Bintje (Full Belly Farm)- a creamy, yellow fleshed potato with thin, pale, yellow skin. Flavor is best retained when roasted, fried or made into chips, but they can also be used for potato salads and other side dishes. Available in a 10# case.
- Organic Red French Fingerling (Full Belly Farm)- when cooked, they have a robust, nutty, earthy, and buttery flavor. Its rose colored skin is thin and smooth (no need to peel). Its flesh is creamy yellow splashed with pink; moist, firm and waxy. 25# case.

LOCAL CALROSE RICE

Calrose Rice is a pearly-white rice known for its sticky texture. Its naturally soft starchy structure holds flavor beautifully while maintaining texture and form. Calrose rice works well as a sushi rice, used for paella, or enjoyed as a standalone table rice. We offer a medium grain Calrose rice- please specify "Medium Grain Local White Rice" when placing your order. Available in a 50# bag, $29.75.

Calrose rice accounts for more than 80% of the California crop, with California being the second largest rice growing state in the United States. Much of the California rice crop is grown in Sacramento, Yolo, and Placer counties. We are pleased to offer Calrose Rice that is locally grown by Pure Rice First located in Lincoln, CA. Pure Rice First is currently owned and operated by Virginia Van Dyke, whose family has been farming rice in Lincoln for five generations (since 1940). They take great pride in providing premium product to their local community and preserving local farm land.
